

SUPERIOR SMALL LODGING GUIDELINES

CLASSIFICATION

To qualify for SSL membership, eligible properties must be no more than 50 rooms* (Accommodations) for rental. . Properties must hold a valid hotel, motel, inn, or bed or breakfast license and where applicable, pay county tax, as well as other state and County sales tax. New properties must have a Certificate of Occupancy, in order to be inspected. All properties must be inspected annually. Property participation is limited to those establishments that are primarily and apparently vacation or business travel oriented with private customer accommodations. The program will not accept semi-residential establishments that do not provide leisure or business travel environment and services. Every room in a certified property is required to meet all SSL Guidelines. All properties must comply with SSL guidelines - no exceptions. Condos may only be accepted into the program if they are in a building that, in its' entirety, has 50 or less units with no yearly residential units maintained in the building. They must also be run by a management company and one cleaning company be used for all condos with appropriate licenses in place and paying state and local bed tax. Owners of multiple properties which are operated from one central office or booking agency and are presented and advertised under one web site must all be members of SSLA in good standing to be admitted into the program and maintain membership.

An independently conducted property review inspection determines membership in the SSL program. This review guarantees that guests will enjoy a clean, safe and well managed small lodging establishment, offering friendly ambiance and personal service. SSL participation is an earned privilege and members must demonstrate an on-going commitment and adhere to the requirements of the program, including the yearly agreement and payment of any applicable fees and dues. All properties must be inspected. Properties in SSL must have email capabilities for organizational communications.

INSPECTIONS

Eligible properties must undergo an annual unannounced inspection to maintain SSL membership. Program affiliation requires that unannounced inspections could occur periodically and randomly. All properties must be available for inspection without advance notice. If there is no on site office for a property then the Executive Director must be informed of this on an annual basis. Contact information must be posted so both the inspector and/or a guest can reach management. Response time is key.

On arrival at the property, the inspector will identify him/herself and ask to see your vacancy listings. The inspector will randomly choose accommodations based on availability and not be led to rooms. The priority of the inspector is to choose vacant rooms ready for rent. However, based on room availability and discretion of the inspector, he/she may also ask to see accommodations that have yet to return to inventory: unclean, closed due to maintenance, renovation or presently occupied (with occupants permission only). In the event of high occupancy at a property at the time of the inspector's arrival precludes seeing the requisite number of unoccupied/ made up rooms, then it is necessary for the inspector to see occupied rooms or rooms that are currently listed as "out of order". In the case of occupied rooms, the inspector must be accompanied by a representative of the management during the time that the inspector is in the room and have the permission of the guest. It would be prudent of the management to also accompany the inspector in any review of rooms. It is understood that the inspection of unoccupied, made up rooms ready for occupancy is the preferred approach and the inspection of occupied rooms only occurs as an exception not the rule. The inspector may ask to see at least 30% of the accommodations, from standard to deluxe and in different areas and floors of your complex. An inspector should see every unit in a new property to ensure the correct number of units. If the inspector is denied access to any accommodation during the walk-through, the inspection may be terminated. The inspection fee can be forfeited and eligibility denied.

The property owner, manager or representative is encouraged to accompany the inspector during the evaluation. This is an excellent opportunity to gain valuable feedback. The inspector will point out areas (if any) that may need additional attention, repair or enhancement from the guest perspective. It is not required that the owner, manager or representative accompany the inspector on his/her evaluation and the inspector is unable to wait for any off premise personnel to join the tour. The inspection will be conducted during this initial visit and the inspector cannot return during a more convenient time. If for any reason the inspector finds no access to the property on arrival for inspection the inspector will make every effort to return. Given a demanding travel schedule and time restraints while in the destination this however cannot be assured. The inspection fee could be forfeited. The inspection can last from 30 minutes to two hours depending on property size and conditions. At the conclusion of the inspection, the inspector will provide the owner, manager or representative a verbal summary of the inspection but no score will be given.

The inspectors are industry professionals who travel throughout the country and should be extended every courtesy one would bestow upon a guest.

The passing grade for the SSL program is 82%, but properties are encouraged to continually upgrade and exceed the standards of the program. A combined housekeeping score of 85% must be maintained for the privilege of being in the SSL program.

COMPLAINTS

Guest complaints are to be given serious consideration. After three written complaints received by the National organization, your local SSL Destination Group, Convention and Visitors Bureau, Chamber of Commerce and/or Better Business Bureau, the property can be re-inspected with the expense of the re-inspection to be paid for by the property. All complaints must be dealt with in a business-like manner and must be well documented.

SSL's procedures on handling guest complaints safeguard the association's reputation and standards on quality and service. The following are internal procedures and timelines for replying to complaints received by letter or email; it also introduces a system for handling difficult cases.

Scenario 1 - If SSL office is primary recipient of a guest complaint, then SSL Executive Director responds, appropriately, by letter or email to complaining guest. All relevant correspondence is forwarded to inn that is the subject of the complaint. Innkeeper is requested to respond in writing to the guest and copy SSL office 'for the record' within a 30-day period. If a guest's complaint is left unanswered by a property owner/manager after a 30-day period, SSL membership may be terminated forthwith. Extensions may be granted to the innkeeper when replying to guests' complaints, given any extenuating circumstances.

1. The first step is generally the preliminary fact finding stage. The property owner/manager is requested to directly respond in writing to the guest's complaint(s) with a copy to be sent to SSL's administrative office within a 30-day period.

2. To the extent possible, confidentiality concerning the complaint and the information must be maintained at all stages. Appropriate carbon copies would include the respective DMO, a representative of the Property Review Program (PRP), the Chair, and the President. Only if determined necessary shall the Destination President be carbon copied on any correspondence.

3. If complaint deals with issues covered under SSL's guidelines, correspondence is forwarded to PRP representative for his/her comments. In the case of a complaint of this nature (guidelines), SSL Executive Director conducts appropriate activity, which could mean an unannounced inspection within 30-60 days. Destination Marketing Organization is copied with all relevant correspondence. Correspondence remains in file for three years.

4. If after the preliminary review of any complaint or suggestion the complaint is found to be justified, SSL may request assistance from the DMO, if any. SSL may also request assistance from PRP in determining the need for immediate re-inspection and additional corrective action.

5. The 30-day response time may be shortened for complaints channeled through the DMO.

6. Destination Presidents must be made aware of the gravity of a complaint against a member-property at least 30-days prior to membership termination.

Scenario 2 - In the typical case, complaint goes to local DMO/Chamber, etc., and may be forwarded to SSL office. This then starts the process outlined under Scenario #1, SSL would require that all DMOs, as standard procedure, forward complaints on an SSL property to the SSL Executive Director.

The local destination group will handle SSL-member complaints regarding inspections with input from the National, only if necessary. Re-inspections cannot be requested to improve property scores.
