where historic views meet new perspectives

In the southeastern corner of the North Carolina coast sits Wilmington — a picturesque port city nestled between the Cape Fear River and the Atlantic Ocean. Stroll our two-mile Riverwalk and experience Wilmington's historic cobblestone-lined downtown streets, more than 200 restaurants, nearby hotels, shops and attractions; all full of Southern hospitality.

Take time to explore and relax with your toes in the sand while taking advantage of the city's close proximity to three colorful island beaches including Carolina, Kure and Wrightsville. The area is also home to nearly 8,000 hotel rooms and suites with unique settings stretching from the river to the sea. There's something for everyone in Wilmington year-round.
